Council

This year marks the 20th anniversary of Culture Night, taking place on Friday, 19 September.

This much-loved annual national celebration honours culture, creativity, and the arts. For one night only, audiences can enjoy an exciting mix of artistic and cultural experiences throughout the county.

Fingal's finest heritage properties, arts centres, and cultural organisations will extend their opening hours, offering a vibrant programme of over sixty free events across eighteen venues.

Join us in County Hall, Swords, for an unforgettable evening of music and art in celebration of Culture House, Fingal County Council's bold new vision: bringing a library, theatre, gallery, café, and Makerspace together at the heart of the upcoming Swords Cultural Quarter. Enjoy a heart-warming performance by the Forget Me Nots and explore inspiring exhibitions by Amanda Dunsmore and Dr Declan Brady.

Fingal Arts Office and Libraries will also host exciting events at Swords Castle and the Carnegie Library, designed to spark creativity and invite audiences to get involved. Join Music Generation to take on the challenge of writing and recording an original song, all in just 60 minutes! Poet Sheila Ryder will host a lively poetry slam, where audience members can take to the stage to perform their own original works. As the evening unfolds, community choirs from Fingal will deliver a special series of live performances at the Carnegie Library, celebrating local talent.

Historic maps, 1916 medals, and a range of fascinating and unusual items will be on view from the collection at Fingal Local Studies and Archives in Swords.

Fingal Libraries will host an evening of family-friendly events at Malahide, Balbriggan, Blanchardstown, and Swords libraries. Join D15 Youth Theatre members at Draíocht for a taster workshop or enjoy a showcase of delightful family films.

Visitors are invited to tour Fingal's magnificent heritage properties. Discover over three centuries of history at Newbridge House and Farm, experience the rich heritage of Malahide Castle, built over 800 years ago. Embark on a journey through Irish railway history and glimpse the incredible model railway collection at the Casino Model Railway Museum. Take a self-guided tour of DIAS Dunsink Observatory, where you can meet astronomers and explore the historic site that was once home to many of Ireland's most celebrated scientists.

Read Mór

The Arts Council is proud to announce the return of Read Mór, its annual book-gifting initiative that celebrates Irish literature and promotes wellbeing through the joy of reading.

As part of Culture Night 2025, Read Mór will see over 2,500 books by 30 Irish and Irish-based authors gifted to young people across Ireland, through a new partnership with Jigsaw: The National Centre for Youth Mental Health.

Now in its fourth year, Read Mór was created to extend the spirit of Culture Night to those who may be unable to attend in-person events.

The initiative champions Irish writing while recognising the proven benefits of reading for mental health, emotional wellbeing, and social connection.

This year, Read Mór events will take place in selected Jigsaw centres nationwide on Culture Night, giving young people across the country the opportunity to connect, explore books, and celebrate reading in a welcoming environment.

Six Jigsaw service locations are hosting events featuring one of the chosen authors. We are delighted to announce that the Jigsaw service in Blanchardstown will be hosting one of these events. Adiba Jaigirdar, author of Four Eids and a Funeral, will be attending and taking part in this special occasion.
