The Residency Award

Children Experiencing Homelessness

Homelessness amongst children and families is consistently increasing. In March 2026, the Dublin Regional Homeless Executive reported that 1,866 families and 4,118 children were living in emergency accommodation. The types of accommodation provided range from hotels and B&Bs to family hubs, most of which are supported by Non-Governmental Organisations.

For all young children, family and accommodation circumstances have a huge influence on their health and wellbeing and life opportunities. Families experiencing homelessness have described feelings of insecurity that cause stress, while the temporary nature of many of these situations may also bring about feelings of anxiety.

What will an artist receive from this Residency Award?

Early childhood arts include a wide range of different arts practices and creative experiences with and for children aged 0-5 years.

01 This Residency Award offers:

A maximum budget of €13,000 for each residency award. This fee is to research, develop and deliver a project with children aged 0–5 years and their adult caregivers in an assigned homeless accommodation service.

02 Support from the Local Authority, CYPSC partners and accommodation services.

03 Three facilitated peer-to-peer reflective learning sessions, estimated to be one half-day each, and covered within the budget allocation of each residency award.

What do the partners expect from the artist for this Residency Award?

- 01 Research and development to commence by November 2026.
 - 02 Completion of a minimum of 10 artistic engagements by June 2027.
 - 03 Navigation of fluctuating participation if necessary.

About Exploring & Thinking

2026 marks 10 years of Exploring and Thinking, a collaborative framework for early childhood arts in the Dublin region. It came about in 2016 when the four Dublin Local Authorities, South Dublin County, Fingal County, Dublin City and Dún Laoghaire-Rathdown County, partnered for the first time to collectively consider early childhood arts provision in the Dublin region.

In 2025, the partnership expanded through collaboration with the Dublin Children and Young People's Services Committees, intending to increase opportunities for children to access and benefit from meaningful arts engagement. This new collaboration focuses on creating inclusive and accessible arts experiences for children living in homeless accommodation in Dublin.

About Children & Young People's Service Committees

Children and Young People's Services Committees (CYPSC) are county-level interagency committees in Ireland designed to plan, coordinate, and enhance services for children, young people (ages 0–24), and their families. They bring together statutory, community, and voluntary service providers to ensure that services are accessible, effective, and responsive to local needs.

By fostering collaboration, CYPSCs aim to create better outcomes for children, young people, and families across Ireland. Since 2025, the five Dublin CYPSCs are working in collaboration with the four Dublin Arts Offices, this includes Fingal CYPSC, Dublin City North CYPSC, Dublin City South CYPSC, South Dublin CYPSC and Dún Laoghaire-Rathdown CYPSC.
